

VTEL's New MCU VI ... the Deal of the Decade!

Starting NOW through May 30, 2003, buy four or more of any VTEL Vista™ endpoints, and get the MCU VI for free!

Normally priced at $5995* when purchased with at least one Vista endpoint, the MCU VI is yours for free with the purchase of four or more VTEL endpoints!

Plug and Play - Simple to Install, Easy to Use!

The MCU VI enables small to medium size enterprises to deploy IP-centric video multipoint conferencing. It is easy and fast to install, and runs unattended; there is no need to configure conferences in advance for multiple users to spontaneously initiate full multimedia multipoint videoconferences.

Benefits

- ⑥ Supports up to 6 sites simultaneously at 384 Kbps, and up to 4 at 768 Kbps; cascadable for more capacity
- ⑥ It does not tie up the resources of any particular endpoint
- ⑥ Built-in Gatekeeper and audio transcoder
- ⑥ Continuous presence – view four conference participants simultaneously on the same screen.
- ⑥ Dynamic conference expansion – easily add other participants to a conference already in progress
- ⑥ Web interface – monitor and control your conference from any network-connected PC with a web browser
- ⑥ SNMP-based administration and configuration utility, and API for external scheduling and control applications
- ⑥ T.120 data collaboration (optional)

Buy it now... Use MCU VI part number RDVN-MCU-323-6-VTL, at zero dollars. MCU VI must be included on same purchase order as the VTEL endpoints.
